

Individual Pension Plan

Maximizing your retirement benefits with an Individual Pension Plan (IPP)

An Individual Pension Plan (IPP) is a defined benefit pension plan established by an incorporated company typically for one individual. An IPP may enable you to make higher tax-deductible contributions than the maximum permitted for Registered Retirement Savings Plans (RRSPs) and enhance your retirement income.

Even maximizing your retirement contributions to a RRSP may not provide sufficient income to meet your retirement needs. The IPP may allow you to enhance your retirement income through additional tax efficient contributions.

REASONS TO CONSIDER AN IPP

- Diversify retirement strategy
- Substantially increase retirement savings vs RSP
- Attain a planned capital accumulation at retirement
- Significant corporate tax deductions
- Deductible investment management fees
- Creditor proof
- Succession Planning
- Facilitate sale of the business

SUITABLE CANDIDATES

- Incorporated Business Owner
- Incorporated Professionals
- Senior Executives

WORKS BEST FOR

- Individuals between the ages of 40 and 71 years
- Individuals earning T4 income of $127,611
- Individuals with past service dating back to 1991

COMPARING AN IPP TO A RRSP

This table compares the available contribution room for RRSP versus IPP at different ages, assuming past service to 1991, $127,611 annual income and an RRSP transfer of $398,120.

Age in 2011	Maximum 2011 RRSP contribution	Maximum 2011 current IPP contribution	Maximum past service employer contribution	Maximum first year tax-deductible IPP contribution
40	$22,450	$ 24,049	$ 65,839	$ 89,888
50	$22,450	$ 29,014	$ 161,717	$ 190,731
60	$22,450	$ 35,011	$ 277,526	$ 312,537
70	$22,450	$ 32,482	$ 260,410	$ 292,892
