I am pleased to inform you that Scott C. Murray, Portfolio Manager and Wealth Advisor in our RBC Dominion Securities Vancouver Park Place office, was recently named President of the President's Club in recognition of the quality of service he provides to his clients and his leadership within our firm.

A tradition since 1951, RBC Dominion Securities recognizes advisors who are building high quality businesses through our President's Club honours each year. One individual who stands out among the group is recognized as President of the President's Club. This individual exemplifies all the traits we value in an advisor: personal initiative, commitment to the industry and dedication to a superior client service experience that extends beyond investment advice. Scott was named President of the President's Club this year because he exceeded these criteria while demonstrating a high level of professionalism and integrity.

Scott is also an active member of the community and lends his time to supporting various organizations including The Canadian Cancer Society, Turning Point Recovery Society, The Vancouver Maritime Museum, Operation Western Front, Canada Company and Women in Capital Markets. In doing so, he sets a strong example for the rest of our firm.

I hope you will join me in congratulating Scott on this recognition. If you have any questions about the wealth management experience he can provide, I encourage you to contact him directly.

Sincerely,

David Agnew
