CATCH UP ON YOUR FINANCIAL TO-DO LIST THIS SUMMER

Summer is a time to relax with family and friends, enjoy the warm weather and catch up on your to-do list. This article highlights 10 things you can do to simplify your finances, reduce taxes and protect your family's financial security. After putting on sunscreen, these may be the most important things you do this summer.

1. DE-CLUTTER YOUR FINANCIAL LIFE... AND YOUR DESK

SWITCH TO eDOCUMENTS

Many financial institutions, utilities, phone and cable companies offer eDocuments to reduce the paperwork you receive in the mail. What's more, you never have to worry about mail strikes. Just call us to switch your RBC Dominion Securities personal accounts to eDocuments – we can handle everything over the phone.

CONSOLIDATE ACCOUNTS

Some people, over time, open many accounts at several different financial institutions, resulting in additional administration, multiple monthly statements, multiple meetings with different advisors, as well as the duplication of fees and investments. Consider the benefits of consolidating your accounts at a single financial institution that can offer the full range of services you require.

BANK ONLINE

View your financial accounts online, transfer funds and pay bills from the convenience of your computer.

PRE-AUTHORIZE BILL PAYMENTS

Save time and shorten your to-do list by setting up automatic bill payments online.

PAY YOURSELF FIRST

One of the best financial tips of all is to save through a Pre-Authorized Contribution (PAC) plan. You can set up a PAC plan for RRSP, TFSA, RESP and stock savings plan contributions.

ORGANIZE YOUR FINANCIAL DOCUMENTS IN A BINDER

Include things like financial statements, tax slips, Family Snapshot® financial plans, retirement projections, Wills, Powers of Attorney and so on. Keep it in a safe place like a fireproof lockbox.

2. USE INCOME-SPLITTING STRATEGIES TO REDUCE YOUR FAMILY'S OVERALL TAXES

Because of Canada's graduated tax rate system, the more you earn, the higher your tax rate. If you're a high-income earner, you may be able to reduce your family's overall taxes by transferring some of your income to lower-income family members, so funds are taxed at a lower rate.

3. "CHECK IN" ON YOUR ASSET ALLOCATION – AND POTENTIALLY REDUCE TAXES AND RISK

How you allocate your portfolio assets among the different asset classes (stocks, bonds and cash) is a key factor in determining your investment returns and level of risk. Everyone has an ideal asset mix based on factors such as return objectives, income needs and risk tolerance. However, with unprecedented market volatility since the financial crisis, your portfolio's asset mix can easily swing off-track. If you haven't already done so, now is an excellent time to review your asset mix with us.

Furthermore, when reviewing your portfolio's asset mix, remember the saying: "It's not what you make. It's what you keep." The following are some strategies that you may want to discuss with us that could potentially help maximize your after-tax investment return:

- Because interest is fully taxable, hold interest-bearing investments in your RRSP/RRIF, where they are sheltered from taxes.
- Because capital gains and Canadian dividends receive preferential tax treatment, hold equity investments primarily outside your RRSP/RRIF.
- Hold Canadian dividend-paying investments in an individual non-registered account instead of a holdco, where dividends are taxed higher. Alternatively, pay out dividends earned within a holdco.
- Shelter surplus assets that would otherwise be exposed to your high tax rate by investing in a tax-exempt life insurance policy.
- If your net worth is over US$5.34 million and you have considerable U.S. equity investments, hold any individual U.S. stocks in a Canadian holdco to minimize U.S. Estate Tax.

4. USE CREDIT TO BUILD WEALTH

If you already have debt, consider whether the interest is tax-deductible. If it is not, then speak to your banker or financial planner as there may be a way you can restructure your loan and your assets to reduce your interest costs or make the interest tax-deductible.

5. ENSURE ADEQUATE INSURANCE – TO PROTECT YOUR FAMILY'S FINANCIAL FUTURE

We've all heard the horror stories about people who didn't have adequate insurance when tragedy struck. But we still tend to procrastinate when it comes to insurance. We can help you make sure you have adequate life, disability, critical illness, long-term care and business insurance.

6. UPDATE YOUR WILL AND POWER OF ATTORNEY – FOR PEACE OF MIND FOR YOU AND YOUR FAMILY

Nearly half (46%) of all Canadians do not have a Will, according to a recent study by the Canadian Federation of Independent Business (CFIB). Among those who do, many have out-of-date Wills that do not reflect their current wishes or family situation (which can lead to disharmony) or have a "simple" Will that can result in higher taxes.

- Give your family and yourself peace of mind by booking an appointment with a legal advisor who specializes in estate planning to get an up-to-date, tax-efficient Will.
- For clients with more complex estates, we offer complimentary consultations with our own Will and estate consultant, who can draft an action plan that you can take to your legal advisor to implement. Please ask us if this service is appropriate for you.
- Also, don't forget the critical importance of having a Power of Attorney (POA) (or Mandate in Quebec) for both medical and financial affairs. There is a higher probability of becoming disabled than dying before age 65, so having a POA is critical in the event of disability.
- Consider keeping a copy of your Will and POA in a fireproof safe as well as with your legal advisor for your executor to access.

7. CLARIFY YOUR ACCOUNT STRUCTURES AND BENEFICIARY DESIGNATIONS

List every one of your accounts including any accounts through your employer (employer pension, stock savings plan, etc.) and ask yourself these two questions: "How is this account legally owned?" and "Who is the beneficiary?"

A Family Snapshot® summarizes your financial life, making it simple for you to understand where you stand now and how you are progressing from year to year.

When considering the legal ownership of an account, bear in mind that while joint ownership with your spouse or adult children may help minimize your probate tax in some provinces, this strategy may be undesirable as the joint owner has the ability to potentially deal with the assets without your knowledge.

Next, look at any accounts that permit beneficiary designations such as pension plans, RRSPs/RRIFs, TFSAs and insurance policies. Are these beneficiary designations current? Should you even name a beneficiary? Rather than having your assets go directly to a family member after your death, it may be more appropriate to have them go through your estate in certain situations, even though probate tax is payable.

The appropriateness of your account structures and beneficiary designations will depend largely on how you intend to have your estate distributed, so speak to your legal advisor for advice as you are getting your Will updated.

8. TAKE YOUR CHARITABLE GIVING TO THE NEXT LEVEL

Creating a charitable foundation is a great way to involve your family in philanthropy, and can help the causes you care about achieve better financial health. The days when only the ultra-wealthy were able to set up charitable foundations are gone. You can start your own family charitable foundation for as little as $25,000, which, after the tax credits, will actually only cost you about $14,000 (varies by province). You can name your own foundation after your family surname or a friend or family member who has recently passed away. Speak to us for more information on how to set up your own foundation or donate your money more tax effectively, such as with gifts of stock or a life insurance policy instead of cash.

9. FIND OUT WHERE YOU STAND – GET A FINANCIAL PLAN OR FAMILY SNAPSHOT® PREPARED

You may already have significant savings through an RRSP and/or a company pension plan and seem on track to your retirement goals. But with today's longer lifespans, inflation, taxes, health-care costs and lifestyle expectations, you may need more than you think. And if you're a business owner, you may have other considerations, like converting the equity in your business into a satisfactory retirement income.

A Family Snapshot® can help you answer the million-dollar question of "Will I have enough to retire comfortably?"

It summarizes your financial life on one sheet of paper, making it simple for you to understand where you stand now and, with annual updates, how you are progressing from year to year. It provides a quick retirement and insurance projection, as well as a Wealth Management Opportunities Report of some of the top tax, estate and retirement planning strategies specifically applicable to your family.

For more complicated financial situations, we can provide a COMPASS comprehensive financial plan that addresses all aspects of your financial affairs, including cash and debt management, tax and investment planning, risk management and retirement and estate planning.

10. TAKE ADVANTAGE OF ADDITIONAL STRATEGIES FOR HIGH-NET-WORTH FAMILIES

Our guide "Family Wealth Management — Ten Strategies to Build and Protect Your Family's Wealth" highlights strategies for families with investable assets of $1 million or more, who face unique financial challenges.

We can help you check items off your financial to-do list this summer. Please contact us for more information.
