

Discover the luxury of Royal African Safaris

PLANNING FOR YOUR BUCKET LIST RETIREMENT

Learn the secrets to strategically preserving and spending your money throughout retirement—in the most tax-efficient way.

As an investment advisor who goes beyond investment advice to address the wide range of concerns related to my clients' financial and life goals, the topic of bucket lists comes up frequently—and going on an African safari seems to be on everyone's list.

In this age of mass market tourism, most safari operators will show you Africa through a dusty window. This is not the Africa I want you to see.

At Royal African Safaris, they believe a luxury safari should be the adventure of a lifetime. After all, Africa is a place where life never stands still, where wildlife moves with the sun and the seasons, and where ancient cultures thrive in out of the way places.

Join us for lunch as we chat about enjoying your retirement in the most luxurious—and tax-efficient—way.
