Long-Term Investors Can
Weather Market Declines

Intrayear declines in the S&P 500 have averaged 13.4% since 1948, yet annual price returns have been positive in 51 of those 70 calendar years.

Intrayear gain and decline reflect largest price changes within each year in U.S. dollars. S&P 500 annual returns are based on the price index only and, therefore, do not include dividends. Average frequency of declines, as shown in the table, assumes 50% recovery of lost value. Standard & Poor's 500 Composite Index is a market capitalization-weighted index based on the results of approximately 500 widely held common stocks. The index is unmanaged and, therefore, has no expenses. Past results are not predictive of results in future periods. Capital Group funds and Capital International Asset Management (Canada), Inc. are part of Capital Group, a global investment management firm originating in Los Angeles, California in 1931. The Capital Group companies manage equity assets through three investment groups. These groups make investment and proxy voting decisions independently. Fixed income investment professionals provide fixed income research and investment management across the Capital organization; however, for securities with equity characteristics, they act solely on behalf of one of the three equity investment groups.
